GENERAL SERVICE

FOR JOHN S. WISE
Buried on New Market Anniversary—Military Honors Are Paid Him.

On the forty-ninth anniversary of the battle of New Market, in which he received his baptism of fire and blood in the immortal charge of the Virginia Military Institute cadet battalion, and was wounded, the body of John Sergeant Wise was buried in Hollywood yesterday. Many Richmond and Virginia people who were his contemporaries attended the final services.

The body arrived in this city at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning from Old Point Comfort, and was taken at once to St. Paul's Church, where services were held at noon, conducted by Rev. W. Russell Bowie and Rev. Landon R. Mason, D. D. The church was filled with floral offerings.

Eight sergeants of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, who were once commanded by Captain Wise, were active pallbearers. All the seven children, with the widow, were present as was a detail from Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans.

Proceeding to Hollywood, the body was laid to rest close by the grave of Henry A. Wise, Governor of Virginia and father of John S. Wise, one of America's great men of his day. Company A, of the Blues, acted as guard of honor in the funeral procession.

When the last words of commitment had been said, detail of the Richmond Howitzers, under command of Lieutenant James C. Pollard, fired a salute of three guns over the grave among relatives, aside from the immediate family and friends from a distance at the funeral services.

Captain Henry A. Wise of Baltimore; William Gerhard, of Philadelphia; Dr. Arthur Gerhard, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Macomb G. Foster, of New York; Miss Virginia P. Wise, of Williamsburg; George N. Wise, of New York; Dr. A. N. P. Garrett, of Washington; James Dunlap Wise, of Charlottesville; Mrs. Herbert C. Kraus, of Charlottesville; E. C. Harrison, of Charlottesville; Dr. A. M. C. Taylor, of Amelia; George K. Taylor, of Amelia; A. Draper, of New York; D. M. Anderson, of Watertown, N. Y.; Captain B. A. Calverton, of Washington; Captain Aza Rogers, of Petersburg.

When the body of Mr. Wise arrived at Old Point on Wednesday night, a delegation of officers from the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, who were to take the body to the fort, where it lay in state, met the body at the fort. The coffin was placed on a caisson, draped with United States flags. The caisson was then taken to the fort, where the body of Major-General Anderson, who distinguished himself by conspicuous gallantry in the battle of New Market, stood guard in the chapel on Wednesday night, the colonel in command of the fort being on watch the first hour.

Early yesterday morning services were conducted by the chaplain, officers, members of their families and many friends being in attendance.

The body was then taken to the fort, where it lay in state. The body was then taken to the fort, where it lay in state.

RAILROAD VALUES

DISPLAY INCREASE
Tax and Charter Figures Given in Report of State Corporation Commission.

From the annual report of the State Corporation Commission for 1912, made public yesterday, it appears that the total value of all properties of steam railroads in Virginia, as assessed by the commission, was $110,230,815. The value of electric railway properties was $7,320,364; that of telegraph, telephone, steamboat, express and sleeping car companies, $4,938,976; light, heat, power, gas and water companies, $7,659,337; canal companies, $403,372.

Gross transportation receipts of steam and electric railroads in the State for 1912 amounted to $40,640,418.44, an increase of $5,753,048.01 for 1911. The total miles of steam railroad track operated was 8,552.10, an increase over the preceding year of 72.70 miles.

The following shows the aggregate for the year 1912 of all State taxes assessed by the commission, and of the amounts paid into the treasury in connection with the work of the commission:

Property and franchise taxes of steam railroads and canals, $9,794,091; same against electric railway companies, $7,061,751; same against steamship companies, $9,841.39; same against water, heat, light and power companies, $2,615.78; property and franchise taxes of telephone and telegraph companies, $58,531.43; same against express companies, $26,958.63; license taxes of Pullman Company, $6,141.78; registration fees and general franchise taxes, $27,841.78; same against foreign corporations, $31,500.50; same to foreign corporations, $24,145; clerical fees, tax on seal, fines, etc., turned into treasury by Clerk R. T. Wilson, $4,868.05. The total is $1,462,116.16, an increase of $57,603.91 over 1911.

On January 1, 1913, there were 6,726 domestic and 621 foreign corporations authorized to transact business in Virginia, a net increase of 285 domestic and twenty-two foreign corporations during the year. The increase in total authorized maximum capital during the year is $375,633,700.

In 1912, 833 charters were issued, against 865 in 1911. Besides, there were 166 amendments to charters already in existence. Four charters were revived, and there were eight mergers. During the year, there were 203 voluntary dissolutions of corporations, while the charters of 383 domestic and 16 foreign corporations were renewed. The annual registration fees for two successive years.

The report is signed by Commissioners R. R. Prentiss, William F. Rhea and J. Richard Wingfield.
